Keeping Children Safe

As the numbers in nursery have increased with all our lovely new children, releasing children safely is of paramount importance. We ask that parents and carers collecting their child to be alert when we open the door and indicate where you are by waving or moving forward so that we can see your child greeting you. If you need to speak to a member of staff, please be patient as we release the children first and then we can give you the proper attention you need.
Many Thanks

Busy Learning

Over the past week we have Listening to the story of 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff' and using this story as a theme for our other learning. We have re-enacted the story, focusing on repetitive phases and character. In Expressive Art and Design we have explored sounds such as wood blocks to represent features of the story and explored blue shades using wax resist, colour mixing and combining a variety of materials. We have also been using a variety of different resources to build bridges. The children have had access to other traditional tales through books and jigsaws.

Next week we shall continue to base our learning on the traditional tale.
